

NANCY HORN

After battling brain cancer for 14 months, Nancy's life was cut short in 2003. She was both a devoted wife and mother, who inspired many people with her courage and positive attitude.

Nancy Horn was described as a model mother – she took motherhood to a new level; a true-blue friend; a person with outstanding character; she was fun and a pleasure to know.

In her memory, the Anderson Park District and the Beech Acres Park Playground Committee have come together with the friends and family of Nancy Horn to build an 'inclusive' playground for children in our community. Together, they have planned a major upcoming event. The event, A Run to Remember, is a 2.5 mile run/walk that will celebrate Nancy's short life and will also fundraise for the construction of this exciting play area.

It is fitting that her memory would help build playgrounds for children in our community and the major event to celebrate her short life would involve fitness – another one of her priorities.
