

The art of peace

Duffy Beischel, president of the Anderson Park District Board, above, receives the "deed of gift" from Susan Goldberg, Greater Anderson Promotes Peace co-director and Peace Pole committee chairperson, at the pole's dedication ceremony Sept. 25. Looking on is Barry Riehle, co-director of GAPP. They had this ceremony during the park district's "A Fair of the Arts" at Beech Acres Park. At right, Don and Magda Dawson of Anderson Township found a photograph of a castle that they had stayed in at the booth of Mount Washington photographer Vicki Jones (in background) during the park district's art fair.
